About the LEVY COURT

Levy Court is your County government. Kent County Levy Court is comprised of seven elected Commissioners: six are elected from the districts in which they reside, and the seventh is elected at-large to represent the entire county. The Commissioners serve at the will of the electorate and answer solely to their constituents. Since the Commissioners are elected officials, it is customary to refer to them with the designation of Honorable.

Levy Court responsibilities include: enacting planning and land use ordinances; providing parks and recreation facilities; establishing fees; providing emergency medical services; 911 communications; emergency management; approving sewer system construction; establishing the yearly tax rate and overseeing the county departments that support the mission of Levy Court. The Commissioners appoint a County Administrator who is responsible for managing the day-to-day operations of county government.

Levy Court offices are located at 555 Bay Road. Residents may call 744-2300 to reach a County Office.

For more information on Levy Court, please visit our website at www.kentcountyde.gov.

Kent County Levy Court Changes Leadership: MAKES HISTORY

On November 5th, Kent County residents re-elected all three Levy Court Commissioners up for reelection: Joanne Masten (1st district), Allan Angel (3rd district), and Jody Sweeney (5th district), as well as Clerk of the Peace Brenda Wootten. However, January 7th, 2025 marked a historic new era in Kent County leadership.

Joanne Masten was elected President of the Levy Court, succeeding Terry Pepper, who served five terms on the Levy Court and twice as president with dedication and commitment. President Masten, now in her second term, looks forward to a bright future for Kent County.

"As we step into this new chapter for our county, my focus is on creating opportunities that uplift every community. Leadership change brings a fresh perspective, and I'm committed to working with all of you to address challenges head-on and ensure our county remains a place where everyone can thrive," said Joanne Masten.

Joining President Masten in this new chapter is Bob Scott, named Vice President of the Kent County Levy Court. Mr. Scott succeeds Allan Angel, who served as Vice President from 2021-2025. Mr. Scott brings a wealth of experience and dedication to his role. Together, President Masten and Vice President Scott are poised to lead Kent County toward a bright and prosperous future.

Unlawful Restrictive Covenants Exist in HISTORIC DEEDS, PUBLIC HELP REQUESTED

Black History Month encourages reflection upon advances resulting in the elimination of discriminatory laws and unfair practices in our nation's past.

An example of these discriminatory laws and practices are race-based Restrictive Covenants, which have been unenforceable since 1948 and illegal since 1968. Even so, there is no federally mandated process to systematically eliminate this offending language from property ownership documents.

Many states – Delaware included – passed laws that prevent the recording of property documents discriminating against people for race, color, creed, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, age, marital status, familial status, source of income, national origin, ancestry, or housing status. (9 Del C. 41 §9605(b)).

However, just because discriminatory restrictive covenants are illegal does not mean that they do not still exist within the deeds online database dating back to 1874 or our historical property records books dating back to 1646.

In 2018, in concert with the NCC Recorder of Deeds, Delaware lawmakers provided a way to redact and strike discriminatory language from older deeds and other property records. (9 Del C. 41 §9628)

While these covenants are now illegal, they can be shocking and hurtful if discovered in deeds or HOA/Condominium paperwork.

With over 6,000,000 documented pages already recorded and 200 or more new multipage documents added a day, the Recorder of Deeds office does not have the staff to proactively seek out and eliminate illegal language.

Therefore, we invite the public to help us by bringing it to our attention. Find the form we designed for this purpose in the Community Relations page of our website.

Please get in touch with the Recorder of Deeds at Eugenia.Thornton@kentcountyde.gov or call (302) 744-2321 to learn more or to volunteer to help with this project.

Foreclosure Help IS OUT THERE

Because everybody needs a little help now and then the Kent County Sheriff's office would like to get the word out that there is help.

A home is not only a substantial financial investment but also a source of pride. The loss of a home, due to unexpected events such as unemployment, illness or divorce, can be financially and personally devastating.

One missed loan payment doesn't have to send you down the path to foreclosure. The key is to act quickly. If you can't make your next mortgage payment, or have already missed one, contact your lender or loan servicer right away. Let them know about your situation and see if you can find a solution that will allow you to stay in your home.

Here are some helpful links about foreclosure prevention and help. Remember, if you have fallen behind on your payments, there are alternatives to foreclosure. There are resources that are available in Kent County and these links can also be found on our newly designed webpage, <https://www.kentcountyde.gov/My-Government/Departments/Sheriffs-Office>

Our office staff are available Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. if you need assistance.

Remodel Underway to Expand and Modernize KENT COUNTY 911 DISPATCH CENTER

The Kent County 911 Dispatch Center has embarked on a significant remodel to replace aging equipment, improve infrastructure, and expand capacity from 18 to 22 dispatch positions.

The phased project ensures the center remains fully operational throughout construction and is slated for completion by mid to late February.

Key upgrades include modern ergonomic dispatch consoles, durable new flooring, enhanced acoustic wall installations, and updated electrical and data infrastructure.

To maintain uninterrupted 911 services, the project is being executed in carefully planned phases. Dividing the work into sections allows dispatchers to continue coordinating emergency responses seamlessly while construction progresses.

When completed, the remodel will expand the center's capacity to 22 dispatch positions, enhancing flexibility and responsiveness during emergencies and peak demand periods.

Kent County Public Safety Enhances Services WITH TWO NEW PARAMEDIC SUBSTATIONS

Kent County Public Safety is excited to announce the construction of two new paramedic substations, strategically located in Harrington and Frederica. These modern facilities represent a transition from shared spaces within local fire departments to independent paramedic substations, ensuring optimized service delivery for our residents.

The new Harrington substation will serve as a vital hub for southern Kent County, while the Frederica substation is poised to enhance coverage along the U.S. Route 1 corridor and surrounding communities. Both locations were selected based on a thorough analysis of historical and anticipated service needs, including call volumes and response times.

“These new substations underscore our dedication to providing top-tier emergency medical care to our residents,” said John Tinger, Acting Public Safety Director.

“By establishing independent facilities, we’re enhancing service efficiency and reinforcing our commitment to public safety.”

Each substation will feature modern amenities with facilities designed to support the health and well-being of our paramedics.

These improvements will empower our Emergency Medical Services (EMS) teams to continue delivering exceptional care under any circumstances.

Construction on both substations is set to begin in early 2025, with anticipated completion by the end of the year.

As these projects progress, we’ll share updates and milestones to keep our community informed.

Kent County Public Safety thanks residents for their ongoing support and looks forward to serving our growing communities more effectively with these new facilities.
